5 A. Listen to the dialogue, (26), and act it out.

At the Box Office

A: Hello. How can I help you?
B: I'd like two seats for tomorrow.
A: Morning or evening performance?
B: Evening, please.
A: Where do you want your seats?
B: In the stalls, please. Back or middle rows.
A: I'm sorry, but the stalls are sold out.<sup>1</sup> We have two good seats in the box at 35 pounds.<sup>2</sup>
B: That's more than I wanted to pay.
A: Then I can offer you two seats in the circle, front row, at 15 pounds.
B: I think I'll take those. Thanks very much.
A: Thank you.

B. Make up similar dialogues of your own. You may use these ideas:

1) — three seats;
2) — a seat in the stalls;
front rows;

The Famous Libraries of the World

1. The US Library of Congress is the largest in the world. It has about 90 million items — books, manuscripts<sup>2</sup>, maps, photographs, pieces of music etc. The library has about 350 miles<sup>3</sup> of bookshelves in three gigantic [dʒaɪ'gæntɪk] buildings in Washington, D.C.

The collection was started in 1800 to help congressmen in their work. When in 1814 the books were destroyed in a fire, the Congress bought Thomas Jefferson's personal library of about 6500 books — the beginning of a new collection. Now the library is open to the public.

2. The Biblioteque Nationale (National Library) is the most important library in France and one of the oldest in the world. Its beginning was the first royal library started by Charles V in the 14th century. In 1692 the library was opened to the public and renamed the Biblioteque Nationale in 1795. The library's collection nowadays includes about 9 million books and 180 thousand manuscripts from France and other countries.

Послетекст овое задание: вырази свое отношение к прочитанному

A. Read the key words from the text and try to decide what the text is about.

Television, family, TV programme, men, women, children, interest, watch.

B. Read the text to see if you were right and give it a name.

Can you imagine your life without television? Most of Russian families watch it. Some families keep the television turned on most of the time, even when they have meals or receive visitors. They can watch anything that is on including trash<sup>1</sup>. They turn the television on first thing in the morning and forget to turn it off when they go to bed. These people get so used to TV watching that they feel depressed [di'prest] if the television is not working. Yet, in most families television is turned on for two or three hours a day. Young children are not recommended to watch TV for more than an hour a day.

Nowadays there are TV programmes that serve the needs of any age groups and any interests! Men traditionally watch sports programmes and never miss important football matches. If they want to watch a film, they choose a comedy, a thriller or a crime film. Women may watch serials, comic series, pop-music concerts, romantic comedies and melodramas ['melədrɑ:məz]. Both men and women watch the news, talk shows and quizzes. Those who have more developed tastes listen to classical music, watch plays and serious films. Some people prefer science programmes, political broadcasts and documentaries. Young people never miss a good musical programme or a popular comic series, some watch reality shows. Children watch cartoons, children's educational programmes and bed-time stories.

C. Say which statements in the text you agree or disagree with.
