(Verse 1)

On a bright and breezy day,
By the ocean's gentle spray
There's a girl with a smile so sweet,
Walking barefoot on the sandy street.

(Chorus)

She sells seashells by the seashore,
The shells that she sells are seashells
I'm sure!
Come and see her little stand,
Treasures crafted by nature's hand.

(Verse 2)

From the smallest to the grand,
Each one held in her tan,
Little hand, a gift to find,
Left behind by the salty brine.

(Chorus)

She sells seashells by the seashore,
The shells that she sells are seashells,
I'm sure! Listen closely, hear them sing,
Tales of mermaids and everything.

(Bridge)

The sun is setting, painting the sky,
A golden glow as the day says goodbye.
She packs up her treasures, her day is done,
But tomorrow, she'll be back for more fun.

(Chorus)

She sells seashells by the seashore,
The shells that she sells are seashells,
I'm sure!
A memory to take back home,
Of a place where you can freely roam.

(Verse 1)

Reported speech, that's the name of the game,
To tell what they said, but not in the same.
No quotes, just a story, a shift in the words,
Let's learn all the rules, it's simpler than birds.

(Chorus)

Backshift the tense, one step in the past,
Present to Past Simple, make sure it will last.
Will turns to would, can changes to could,
That's how we tell what they said, like we should!

Germany wants workers from India

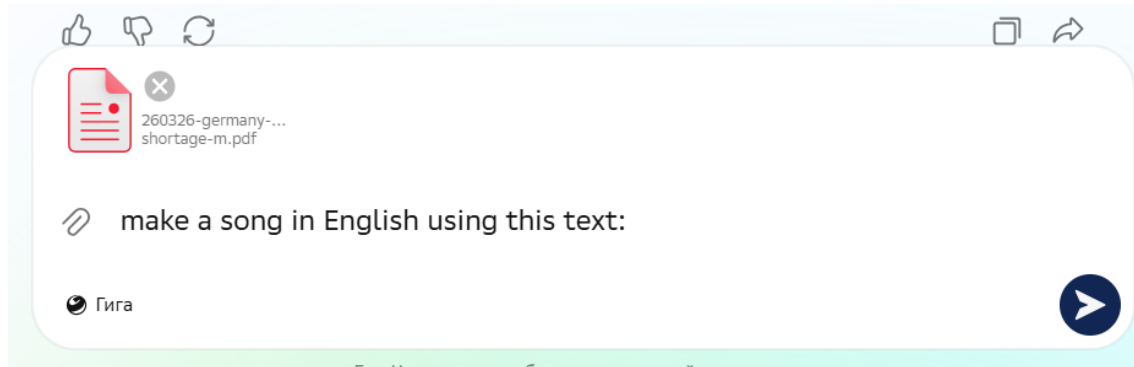

26th March 2026

Germany needs lots of workers. It is struggling to find enough skilled people to work in many areas. This is because many older workers are retiring and the birth rate is falling. There are not enough young people to fill hundreds of thousands of job vacancies. It needs to attract 288,000 foreign workers per year. A recent report from the BBC said Germany wants to fix this problem by asking workers from India to fill many vacancies. India has 600 million people below the age of 25. In particular, Germany needs people to work in engineering, healthcare, and manufacturing. The country needs thousands of nurses and caregivers. It also needs thousands of IT professionals.

Germany is Europe's largest economy. It is famous for manufacturing, especially for cars. Companies like Volkswagen, Mercedes, Porsche, and BMW make some of the most famous cars in the world. Germany is also a leader in renewable energy, pharmaceuticals, and financial services. The government has made it easier for people to get visas to work in Germany. It has increased the number of visas available to Indians from 20,000 per year to 90,000. However, many business owners say more workers are needed. Indian employment expert Aditi Banerjee said: "There's a huge labour surplus in India." She is helping many young Indian workers to find work in Germany.

Song: «Workers of the World» (Bollywood Style)

Verse 1

(Energetic tabla beat, swirling strings, bright brass)

In the heart of Europe, where the engines hum,
Germany is calling, the future's just begun.
Factories are bustling, the tech is on the rise,
Searching for talent beneath foreign skies.

Chorus

(Big, joyful dance break, everyone claps in rhythm)

Workers of the world, hear the call,
From Berlin to Mumbai, we'll stand tall!

Chorus

(All together now – full ensemble, fireworks, big finish)

Workers of the world, hear the call,
From Berlin to Mumbai, we'll stand tall!
With skills and with passion, we'll pave the way,
Together we'll build a brighter day!

Outro

(Music fades with a final tabla flourish and happy laughter)

So let's join our hands, from east to west,
In unity and strength, we'll pass every test.
The future is bright, with hope in our hearts.

🎵 Verse 1:

The Rhine is flowing, the Autobahn is wide,
But the factories echo with a silence inside.

The elders are resting, the young ones are few,
A million new futures are waiting for you!

The engines are waiting, the code needs to flow,

The patients are calling, their numbers will grow.

From Bangalore's tech hubs to Delhi's bright street,

A new generation is ready to meet!

🎧 Pre-Chorus:

So pack up your bags, let your spirit take flight,
The visa is ready, the future is bright!

No borders can hold back a heart that is true,
The whole world is waiting, it's calling for you!

🎧 Chorus:

Germany needs you! To build and to heal!

🎧 Chorus:

Germany needs you! To build and to heal!

To drive the machines and make the future
real!

From Volkswagen to BMW, the engines will sing,

With your mind and your talent, you'll make the bells ring!

Heal every heart, write every line,

Your destiny's waiting, it's yours and it's mine!

Germany needs you! The whole world can see,

The greatest adventure in history!
